

Today's Google Logo Dedicated to a Belarusian Painter

Google has dedicated today's logo on its Belarusian website google.com.by to the 19th century Belarusian painter Napoleon Orda. The painter was born on February 11, 1807 in a manor near Pinsk into the family of a local landlord. The logo depicts Orda's painting of the Čačviarcinski palace in Hrodna.

Two years ago Google had also marked the birthday of Marc Chagall, another painter from Belarus.

Read the full story here